

My family

I'd like to tell you about some members of my family. This is my sister Helen. She's young, slim and attractive. She's got red, curly hair, a pretty snub nose and rosy cheeks. Her eyes are green which I think match her hair rather well. She likes to dress casually, and most of the time she just wears jeans and a jumper.

This here is a picture of Auntie Mable. She is short and somewhat plump. She's very elegant, though. Her straight, blond hair is cut short and she always wears a bob. She's also fond of hat which is not terribly trendy these days. But I suppose you don't always have to look fashionable to look good. I have no idea how old she is, but I'm guessing she would say middle-aged, which normally means the person doesn't want to be called old, but they're not young any more either. Auntie Mable is awfully chatty. Sometimes I think she never stops talking. Auntie Mable also loves her tiny dog, who could easily fit in her fancy handbags.

This is my uncle, John. He is probably the most interesting character in my family. These days he is stocky and bald, but when he was younger he was slim and had thick dark hair. He was awfully handsome. Now that he hasn't got any hair, he always wears a hat and he's also grown a moustache. He normally wears a suit and you will never see him without his briefcase. Uncle John is very outgoing and can talk to anyone about anything. He has some of the most amusing stories I've ever heard.

And finally this is my aunt, Lola. As you can see, she's rather extravagant. These days she's a bit large, but when she was young she was a real beauty. Although she was never tall, she was slender with long, black, shiny hair and blue eyes. Her hair is not long anymore and she's turning a little grey. On the whole, she's now quite round, but I think her build suits her personality. She's optimistic and energetic, and never seems to worry. In this picture she's wearing her favourite hat and a rather classy dress. One has to look elegant even if only going to the market, she told me.

See you next time!
